

Vote Tom Wood

#1 For English Council

"We don't know what it does, but we know we want Tom on it"

I'm willing to bet you didn't join the Lib Dems because you were desperate to vote for the regional reps to the English Council.

It was probably only after delivering a few leaflets, going to Conference, maybe even standing for election yourself, that you realised just how much you cared about the English Council and who's on it.

Which, if you're anything like me, was not at all.

But even though it's an unbelievably tedious layer of bureaucracy, that functions mostly as a talking shop wasting hours of time that could be spent campaigning, it has the power to make crucial decisions about how the party's money is spent and how Westminster candidates are selected.

And that matters. That's why we need campaigners with a strong record of electing Lib Dem candidates on English Council.

Thats why I need your vote.
