JAMES BLISS

ENGLISH COUNCIL REP

#1

I'm an activist in Oxford and your current Regional Party Secretary. I've served on the English Council since 2018, first representing the Young Liberals and now the Region, maintaining a 100% attendance record.

As Secretary, I've kept attendance high by arranging substitutes and made sure key Council documents reach the Regional Executive. I'll keep working to improve communication and accountability between the English Council and the region.

Never afraid to speak truth to power.

I believe in open debate and honest challenge. I'll always constructively hold the English Party to account and always act in the best interest of the Region and members.

The English Party needs reform.

I have supported modernisation and reforms to the English Party since my first meeting and will continue to do so - to streamline structure, improve membership accountability and fight for the voice of the Region.

Winning is what matters.

The English Council should focus on helping the party function effectively, supporting regions, and championing diversity. All with one clear goal, to get more Liberal Democrats Elected.
